MR. WEAVER of Iowa will probably not filibuster so much during the Fiftyfirst session of Congress as he is doing at present.

THE HOUSE Committee on Rules is more to be censured than any member for filibustering. The rules were very wisely made, so they say, to protect the minority, but the minority doesn't seem to need it when one man can rout the whole House.

Dinners at Chamberlin's. Colonel Rice last evening entertained a large number of friends at a dinner given at Chamberlin's to W. T. Coleman, jr., son of Colonel Coleman. A number of prominent gentlemen were present, among them being Colonel Brown of New York; General Johnston of New York; Judge Montgomery and Judge Hooker of Misasisppi; Coogressman Maish of Pennsylvania, and Congressman Cummings of New York. A dinner was also given at Chamberlin's last evening by Hon. Conrad N. Jordan to his English friends, covers being laid for eight.

"I am so glad," she twittered. "Um-er-ab," he began, and she saw she had thoughtlessly struck him somewhere. "Oh, I mean," she broke in, "that I was glad to hear your last reading, because I

EARLY MORNING NEWS.

The Delaware Contest.

The Delaware Legislature adjourned yesterday to renew the canvassing and caucusing of the past week. It will meet again on Monday next and decide the important question of who shall be United States Senator next session. The Massey men are jubilant; their man gained one vote in the first caucus. The Kent people were of the opinion that if the nomination of Treat or Higgins appeared probable, they would unite upon either Smithers or Massey. If they could unite upon Mr. Smithers, his election would be certain, be cause, with the eight votes of Kent, he would also carry these purposes into effect.

Smithers, his election—would be certain, because, with the eight votes of Kent, he would also receive that of Moore from Sussex. The trouble with this is that Mr. Smithers' followers are not enthusiastic in their support of fim. They recognize his services to the Republican party and think he ought to be rewarded with the best that the party can now give him. They recognize that he is old, though yet a well-preserved man, and that his election would be a fitting reward; but they also know that to elect Mr. Smithers would be rather bad politics. be rather bad polities.

The party in Delaware needs a leader—one to whom all would look, and who would be able to organize it. The Republicans have now a hold upon the State, and, by good management, they can keep if. Mr. Smithers is an able man, but he is not the man to make a party leader. He is too old to take any active part in polities, and, besides, he is more of an able lawyer than a politician. Then, again, Mr. Smithers' friends are inexperienced in polities. They will remain with him in caucus as long as they think he might win; but they are not stayers, and, upon good reabut they are not stayers, and, upon good rea-sons being given them in caucus, and when they see that either Higgins or Treat may be a winner, they might go to Massey, who would have been their choice if Smithers had not been in the field. Massey's friends think he would make such a leader, and then, besides.

they are enthusiastic and are working hard for The West Virginia Muddle. The Republicans are reported as holding the key to the political situation. The injunction secured by the Democrats prevented transmission of the Kanawha County returns to the Legislature. This would give Fleming a majority and enable them to declare him elected. The Republican leaders have met the move by a refusal to organize the Senate. This prevents any meeting of the two Houses and a declaration of the election by the joint Assembly.

An effort was made to dissolve the injune tion yesterday, but it failed on technical grounds. It will be argued in the Supreme Court to-day, and until it is decided nothing will be done by either party.

Governor Wilson's Message. Governor Wilson of West Virginia sent his annual message to the Legislature yesterday. The message makes the following showing on

"Throughout the country, for months past, the very atmosphere has been laden with the cry of fraud. Reproach has been cast upon our State as never before by Illegal, fraudulent and corrupt voting in almost every county within its borders. This is so palpable, that he who runs may read. The capitations of 1884 were 133,522, and the entire vote, after the most active political campaign ever made in the State, 137,527. The capitations of 1883 were 147,408, and the vote 194,440. The difference in the capitations and the vote in 1884 was 4,055, in 1888 it was 12,032. This shows an increase of votes in four years of 21,853, which, if legitimate, would indicate a population of 900,000, and an increase in four years of much more than 100,000. It is certain that no such increase has taken place. Throughout the country, for months past, crease has taken place.

"The purity of our elections imperatively denomes a revision of the election laws. The public sentiment of the State demands it. These crimes should be made so odious that no man with the slightest claims to common decepcy can dare to condone them.

The Suspension Bridge destroyed is the carriage bridge between Niagara Falls Village and the Clifton House, and should not be confounded with the railroad suspension bridge, over which trains are running as usual.

B. & O. in Philadelphia. The Baltimore and Ohto Railroad has begun work on the projected line across Philadelphia to connect its line with the Reading Railroad near Wayne Junction. A conference with the near Wayne Junction. A conference with the Reading officials has been held, and it has been decided that the Baltimore and Ohio shall tunnel under the Reading's tracks at Pennsylvania avence instead of running upon them to Thirty-first street, as at first proposed. While rather more expensive than the old plan, there will be no interference whatever with the Reading's traffic, and besides will give the Baltimore and Ohio a continuous line of its own through to Wayne Junction.

For sale at STANDIFORD'S Pharmacy, 9th and F n. w. Open all night. A Steamship Wrecked. The steamer George Appold of the Baltimore and Savannah Steamship Company, which went ashore near Montank Point, on Long went ashore near Montauk Point, on Long Island, N. Y., on Wednesday last, while on a voyage from Providence to Norfolk, has broken up, and is a total wreck. The heavy wind and sea during Wednesday night drove the vessel on the rocks, and she began to go to pieces. The captain, crew and one passenger were taken off the sinking steamer by the life-saving crew without injury. They were taken in charge by the men at the life station, and their wants attended to.

The steamer was one of the oldest and NEW BOOKS.

The steamer was one of the oldest and best known of the large fleet of steamers owned by the Merchants & Miners' Transowned by the Merchants & Miners' Transportation Company of Baltimore. She left Providence for Norfolk, Va., Monday, with a full cargo of merchandise and one passenger. A terrible storm struck the steamer Tuesday night, and continued to Weduesday, when she went on the outer bar about a mile and a half southwest of Montauk Point. There she remained all day, beaten by the waves, but in no immediate danger. Captain Field thought the steamer would get off at high tide. Wednesday morning at dawn the crew of the life-saving station at Hampton, L. I., attempted to go out to the vessel, but the sea was so high it was almost impossible to reach her. The life-savers were beaten back several times. The signal of distress was sounded by the steamer all night, and rockets sounded by the steamer all night, and rockets were fired to attract the attention of those on shore. The weather was very thick, and guid-ed only by the sound of the steamer's whistic, the life-saving crew managed to reach the stranded vessel. Those on board were cool and collected, as they had no fear but that her signals would be heard and assistance would arrive.

She was schooner-rigged, and was built in Philadelphia in 1864. She was built of wood, and was a very seaworthy vessel. She was 206 feet i inch over all, 37 feet beam and 16 teet 5 inches depth of hold. Her gross toninge was 1,456,19; net, 844.76. She was a screw steamer, with double condensing engines, with a nominal horse-power of 1,425. The Appold has been running on the Providence-Baltimore route for a number of years, and this is her first accident.

Mayer, Baltimore & Ohio, General Orland Smith, Baltimore & Ohio, General Orland Smith, Baltimore & Ohio, General Orland Smith, Baltimore & Ohio, and E. P. Wilbert, Lehigh Valley. The combined capital represented probably exceeded $300,000,000. The following official synopsis of the proceedings is given:

The subcommittee reported that all parties interested were in favor of the strict enforcement of the Interstate Commerce act.

ment of the Interstate Commerce act.
They endeavored to introduce in simple form the necessary machinery to enforce the Interstate Commerce act, and also the "agreement" of January I. To accomplish this, they propose an executive organization and the principle of arbitration for settlement of all difficulties. It is proposed that an associ-ation of presidents be formed, that the highest officials of the various companies may be made responsible and held to a more strict and personal account.

great natural remedial agent and, at the same time, when carbonated, a most delightful and exhilarating beverage-was discovered in the Centennial Year 1876, on the farm of Mr. O. P. MEDICAL CERTIFICATES. From the President of the Board of Health for the State of Maryland, Health for the State of Meryland.

Towson, May 26, 1887.

O. P. Macchel, Rsq. Dear Sir:—It gives me great pleasure to state that I was entirely releved of Muscular Rheumatism of six months' standing by the free use of your Strontia Water. I suffered much pain and inability to use my arms. I tried a number of remedies without effect. Noticing the excellent results in Dr. Chancellor's case, and having always a bigh opinion of the water, I used it, with the above result, and have had no return of the Rheumatism. Sincerely yours,

JACKSON PIPER, M. D.

From the Secretary of the Board of Health for the State of Maryland.

Health for the State of Maryland.

Baltimone, May 11, 1887.

Col. O. P. Maccill.

Dear Sir; Your Strontia Water has certainly done me a great deal of good. For several years I suffered painful attacks of Rheumatic Gout, for the cure of which I was induced to visit the principal springs and water cures of Europe, as well as many in this country, but without any positive relief. I have received more benefit from drinking Strontia Water than from all other sources, and I must regard it as a very reluable remedial agent. As a table water and food solvent it is unsurpassed, and especially valuable in many forms of Dyspepsia.

Very truly yours,

C. W. CHANCELLOR, M. D.

We could add hundreds of others to the above, but space will not permit. Manner in Which the Water is Put Up
